

Possible Solutions

- a) Teresa is taking dance lessons again this year. Her friend Kristyn signed up for her first time and doesn't have any ballet shoes yet. Kristyn asked to borrow Teresa's ballet shoes until she and her mother can get to the dance shop this week-end. What should Teresa consider before making this lending decision?
- Will Teresa need the shoes herself before Monday?
 - Does she have another pair at home just in case?
 - Will Kristyn be able to replace the shoes if something happens to them?
 - Is Kristyn careful and responsible with her own things?
 - What will happen to their friendship if Teresa does not lend the shoes to Kristyn?
 - What will happen to their friendship if Kristyn ruins or does not return the shoes?
- b) The math club is having a bake sale after lunch. Kolton wants a cupcake but doesn't have any money, so he asked his friend Zach if he could borrow some money for a cupcake. What should Zach consider before making this lending decision?
- Will Zach have enough money to buy himself a cupcake if he lends some money to Kolton?
 - Does Zach need his extra money for something else?
 - Where will Kolton get the money to repay Zach?
 - Has Kolton borrowed money before? If so, did he pay the money back?
 - What will happen to their friendship if Zach does not lend Kolton the money?
 - What will happen to their friendship if Kolton does not pay Zach back?
