

When measuring length, a ruler is typically used to represent one foot and is used to measure larger objects like this teacher's desk.

The edge of 5 rulers equals the length of the teacher's desk so the desk is about 5 feet long.