

Investing means to put money into something that offers potential profitable returns such as an increase in income, interest, or appreciation in value.