

Hint

Remember, this stem-and-leaf plot shows the scores by using the first digit as the “stem” and the last digit of the score as the “leaf.” So, students would interpret the data based on this. They will need to determine how many students scored an 80 or higher out of the total number of tests given.