

Hints

- In order to divide mixed numbers, you need to change the mixed number into an improper fraction. You do this by multiplying the whole number by the denominator and adding the numerator. The denominator will remain the same.
- In order to divide the fractions, you will multiply the first fraction by the reciprocal of the second fraction.