

Hint

Students need to look at the number of customers surveyed compared to the total population of the city, as well as how the pieces of the graph compare to each other.