

Possible Solutions

After graphing the points, it appears there is a linear relationship between the age and weight.

This data represents a linear relationship because a line of best fit can be drawn through the majority of the points.

