

y-intercept is the point where the graph crosses the y -axis. It is the point $(0, y)$ in the table or on the graph. The point $(0, -5)$ is the y -intercept in the graph below.

